Divine Deville

DeVile Fine Jewelry recently held an opening soirée to celebrate its new Tanglewood location in Houston. The exclusive guest list was filled with private clients and close friends who mingled in the open-air spectacular storefront surrounded by a dazzling selection of designer duds. Custom-made cufflinks, classic diamond hoop earrings and oversized cocktail rings adorned with precious and semi-precious stones were all favorites amongst the eager crowd of socials.

Owner Elizabeth Glanville was on site to introduce the new boutique and showcase a new collection of her own designs and custom-made pieces. After 20 years in the business, Glanville has become Houston's go-to source in the luxury jewelry market and her store has become a prime destination for all things that sparkle.
